WELL-KNOWN POLISH DOCTOR DIES IN PRISON -- Svenska Dagbladet, No 195, 23 Jul 50

Vienna, 22 July -- A grim story is currently making the rounds in Warsaw's academic circles. One of Poland's most highly respected doctors, Professor Grzybuwski, director of the Warsaw University Dermatological Clinic, known abroad for his scientific work, was arrested a few weeks ago by the secret police for illegal political liaison with London.

The police searched Grzybuwski's residence and knew exactly under which rug he had hidden certain papers. A few days later the professor's wife was officially notified that her husband had committed suicide in prison. The professor's friends are now convinced that it must have been English defectors, recently converted to Communism, who betrayed Grzybuwski's connections with London.

Another account prevails, however, that the police had provided a young courtesan to spy out the professor's secrets. Grzybuwski was one of the richest men in Poland, and his political activities could only have been motivated by altruism.

REPORTS SABOTAGE -- Ostatnie Wiadomosci, No 70, 28 Jun 50

The Neues Tageblatt, No 136, reported, without naming the source, that a Soviet submarine was recently sunk by saboteurs.

In Wilno, a street battle between the "Black Cat" partisan group and police lasted 4 hours. Tanks had to be used to quell the disturbance.

In Warsaw, Krakow, Lodz, and Legnica, many members of the secret police have been slain. Two railroad trains were destroyed by explosives on the Lwow-Krakow-Przesc Litewski route.
